Founded in January 2024, Three Rivers Electric quickly established itself as a trusted residential and commercial electrical service provider. The company also specializes in solar installations, whole-home generators, advanced lighting solutions, and economical Service Plans. As it continues to grow, Cardelli is focused on maintaining its reputation for quality and expanding its offerings to better serve the community.

Under Cardelli's leadership, several key promotions and hires have been announced to strengthen the company's operations:

- Shelly Barton, formerly the Director of Marketing & Executive Consultant, has been promoted to Executive Vice President, bringing her vast experience in sales, marketing, branding and customer relations to the forefront of the business, while assisting Cardelli in leading and developing the Company.
- Kyle Couch has been hired as Director of Operations, tasked with ensuring efficient field management and overseeing project execution. Couch, a Journeyman, comes to the company with over 25 years of electrical experience.

“We're excited to grow and provide even better service to the people of Northeast Indiana,” said Cardelli. “With our expanded team and the addition of emergency services, Three Rivers Electric is well-positioned to continue delivering the high-quality work that our customers expect, while also expanding into new markets like solar and whole-home generators.”
